Quick on the uptake were 300,000 members of Boys' Clubs of America, when Secretary Knox offered them the defense task of making model planes for Navy combat forces. Three members of the Kips Bay Boys' club of New York are pictured above, busy doing their bit with glue, plans, and pine wood. Their smallfry machines will be used for aircraft recognition practice.

Equally eager to do their bit to "keep 'em flying" are scores of Dixon students who are registering for a model airplane building contest being sponsored by the local Lions club, in co-operation with the state board of vocational education at Springfield.

Japanese Invaders at Eastern Gateway to Java Isle Today

Landing Parties Swarm Ashore Under Hail of Bullets and Bombs

By ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Japan's sea-borne invasion armies stormed at the eastern gateway to Java today, attacking the storied island of Bali and landing troops on the jointly owned Dutch-Portuguese island of Timor farther to the east.

"Vital points on Bali have been destroyed," an N. E. I. communiqué said tersely.

"Strong action is being taken against landings which the enemy is carrying out."

Dispatches from Batavia said the defenders were exacting a heavy toll as Japanese landing parties swarmed ashore on the gleaming beaches of Bali amid a hail of machine-gun bullets, bombs and shells.

The Dutch high command said allied warships and submarines attacked the Japanese invasion armada around Bali last night.

United Nations headquarters said allied planes smashed heavily at the invaders, scoring three direct hits on one or more Japanese cruisers, two direct hits on transports, and eight "near misses" on a destroyer.

"There were also direct hits with lighter bombs on a cruiser and a transport ship," the communiqué said.

14 Jap Planes Downed

Four Japanese fighter planes were shot down in the attack, without loss to the allied defenders.

The communiqué further reported that five Japanese bombers and five fighting planes were

Look at Map When President Speaks

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The address President Roosevelt will make to the nation Monday night, the White House said today, may touch on strategy but probably will be directed principally to the presentation of a picture of a world at war, as Roosevelt sees it. The speech will be broadcast at 9 p. m. CWT.

The president's press secretary, Stephen Early, told reporters to-day:

"I think when he has finished the speech it will be made very clear that the oceans on each of our coast lines are no longer the saviors or the protection of the country they were said to be by some not so long ago."

"Also I think that it will show that military actions and naval engagements wherever they are fought thousands of miles from here, have a definite effect on each little community, on each man in a workshop, on the production lines."

The president cancelled his press conference today because he still had a head cold. Early said the chief had planned to ask the press and radio today:

"If the people of the United States will be good enough to open their doors and let him in to talk to them, he hoped they would have a map of the world or a world globe before them so that in that way they might more clearly and better understand as he talks with them."

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The appeal by Lieut. Governor van Mook of the Dutch East Indies to the United Nations to take the offensive, search out the enemy and fight, has been followed by a quick promise of initiative from our own Secretary of War Stimson.

Whether Stimson was replying to van Mook doesn't appear, but the secretary made his statement in reply to criticism which he said had been voiced because of the failure of the United Nations to seize the initiative. However, what matters is that the war secretary declared "we will seize every opportunity for counter-attack and the offensive, and every opportunity for surprise".

That will come as welcome encouragement to the people of this and allied countries who have been asking (and rather patiently on the whole) how long it will be before the allies are ready to launch out. The time seems long when there is a piling up of reverses such as are being suffered now in the Orient.

Van Mook emphasized his appeal by declaring that if the allies didn't assume the offensive they should risk losing the war. That thesis, long, has been very generally held by military experts, it being based on the truism that you can't win a war or fair lady by remaining forever in the dunes.

Official said that so far as they know, the material has not been used for incendiary bombs in Europe.

Churchill was expected to call a meeting of his new war cabinet within 24 hours.

Cripps, a dynamic personality whose advanced ideas once gave him a reputation as a radical, was named Lord Privy Seal and House of Commons leader—a dual post which many political observers believe would make him second in the Orient.

A Thought for Today

Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.—II Corinthians 3:17.

The love of liberty with life is given, and life itself the inferior gift of Heaven. Dryden.

What Is a Hoarder?

A hoarder is a person who wants to have an edge over his fellow citizens to the extent of having an abundant supply of things on hand where there are not sufficient stocks available to supply all his neighbors during a wartime emergency.

That is the definition given by a group of New York merchants advertising against hoarding "in the interest of intelligent buying and patriotic behavior."

It's a pretty good definition. The boys crouching in the muddy foxholes of Bataan could probably say it with more force and color, but it's still just as damning as it is dignified.

Are you a hoarder?

Are you buying up sugar so you'll have an "edge" over that mother whose son died at Pearl Harbor?

Are you a hoarder?

Are you grabbing girdles off department store counters, because you fear a shortage and want to make sure you have yours, even if there's none left a month from now for that pretty girl down the street whose husband flew for MacArthur?

If you hoard, remember you are able to overbuy only because (1) you have enough money; (2) your selfish desires overcome your patriotic impulses. By hoarding you take advantage of your neighbor, your country—and yourself.

Hoarding begets more hoarding. If you foresee a shortage of pants or peanuts, the one sure method of aggravating that potential shortage and bringing rationing is to rush all over town buying up stocks and boasting to one and all of your foresight. By hoarding you bring on rationing and possible hardship that might be avoided.

Hoarding is unpatriotic. But conserving what you now have is just as patriotic as buying defense bonds or working harder longer or volunteering for civilian defense. Don't waste. Take care of what you have. Buy only what you really need—now.

When the final history of this war is written, will it be recorded that America lost? That America lost because most of her people remained apathetic toward the war effort and the only ones to arouse from complacency were those who lathered themselves into the hysteria of hoarding?

Clean the Shirts

Newest nightmare bedeviling the Office of Civilian Defense reportedly involves muscling into that organization by so-called patriots who once paraded in various colored shirts, or even night shirts. OCD Director James M. Landis plans to investigate reports that this breed snatched local defense jobs and excluded all others.

There never was and there never will be a place in the United States for brown shirts, dirty shirts, black shirts, stuffed shirts or any other group which preaches hate and intolerance camouflaged as 100 per cent Americanism or by a colored shirt.

Especially is there no place for such business now and that applies doubly in the vital civilian defense program.

More State Barriers

For years a conscientious group has fought the passage of state laws which tend to hamper the free flow of commerce between the states. Now Georgia's red-galvanized governor, Gene Talmadge, threatens to build intellectual barriers. He plans to ask the Georgia legislature to bar graduates of medical schools in other states from practicing in Georgia if those states recognize the American Medical Association's suspension of the University of Georgia Medical School from its accredited list.

Regardless of the merits or demerits of Talmadge's outcry, the results of his plan would be intolerable both to medical graduates of Georgia and those of other states. It would erect a barrier to the free passage of medical and health knowledge when it is sorely needed for the armed forces and for home defense.

Up From the Ashes

Just 120 days after a disastrous fire largely destroyed its plant, the National Bronze and Aluminum Co. at Cleveland announced that it had tripled its pre-fire war production.

One week after the first, the first castings were poured in temporarily roofed quarters. Four months afterward production had been tripled, and in another 120 days, the men promise to double it again. In view of what was accomplished after the fire, there is no reason to doubt that it will be done.

This is the American answer to disaster. The American people will return a similar answer to every disaster the war may have in store for them, for this is the spirit that cannot be licked because it will not be licked.

We're asked to curb war gossip that might help the enemy. To keep 'em rolling and keep 'em flying it will help to keep quiet.

Manager Durocher has forbidden the Brooklyn Dodgers to play golf. In that world series with the Yankees, it did look as if some of the Dodgers were practicing putting.

Pertaining to careless conversation, let's remember that even though a face might launch a thousand ships, a loose tongue can sink them.

SERIAL STORY

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN.

THE STORY Schoolmates in small town Kings Row are desperately ill after overeating of childhood sweetheart. Hence beats her, whisks her away: "all boy" Drake McHugh, tomboy Randy MacIntosh, and the mysterious Tower whose doctor father, town mystery, takes her out of school after social snub from Gordon's dad. Gordon, leading physician's daughter, half-sister of the brunt of schoolboy jokes, whom lawyer Skeffington saves from jail when Benny challenges attack from bully Palmer Green and gang. Other characters include von Ein, Parr's French grandmother whom he adores; Tom Carr, Gordon's new overseer, and his insane wife, Lucy. Tom agrees to Paris, would-be doctor, that he study treatment of mental illness.

TOM CARR'S SUGGESTION

CHAPTER IX
BENNY SINGER was happy. Whenever he went to town on errands for Tom Carr, he went without shrinking from encounters with his old tormentors.

"Hey, Benny! Look, kids, here's old crazy Benny!"

He didn't mind being called "crazy Benny." Not now. He had a job. He worked for Madame, and Tom Carr was his friend. There was not a cloud in Benny's sky.

Once or twice Tom Carr talked to Parris about Benny. "He's a little like Lucy, sometimes. You know, Sonny, people that are a little off that way are just like a string of beads that's come undone. The beads roll around any which-a-way. If there was some way of getting them on the string again, they'd be all right. Doctors do some right wonderful things when it comes to cutting people open and sewing them up again, but they're not so far along with people's brains."

Parris had heard Tom say all of this so many times. "You know what I'd do if I was you?" The old man's sharp eyes shadowed with the gravity of his feelings. "I'd study that if I was you."

"Be a doctor for—for—" He didn't like to say "crazy people" to Tom.

"Yes, sir, Sonny, for crazy people. May be that nobody's found out much about it yet, but it seems to me it would be a grand thing to study. People like Benny, and—like Lucy. Not real crazy, you know, Sonny, just off a little. If there was just some way of holding them together again..."

Parris was pretty sure now that he would like to be a doctor. But he thought he'd rather drive two fiery bay horses like Dr. Gordon and go around saving people's lives. Suddenly he recalled that day Dr. Gordon operated on Willy Macintosh's father. He remembered the terrible yells that came from that upper window.

He realized that he loved this place—this, right here, the ground, the crisscross pattern the wavy grass made, the shiny red stems of vines, the dusky blue coat on winterberries. It was familiar and comfortable.

But even in that instant a small unease returned. He knew what the feeling was, and what it came from. Other boys had parents who were not so old as his grandmother. They had brothers and sisters and relatives. He had only his grandmother. What would he happen when—when? He couldn't say the word even to himself. Then—all of this would be gone somehow. Where would he go?

MADAME VON ELN sat on the terrace that same afternoon talking with Dr. Gordon and Colonel Skeffington.

PARRIS was dismayed when he heard that he was to go to Aberdeen College. For the first time in his life he was near to being critical and resentful of his grandmother's arrangements.

Parris did not know that he was regarded by the other students as something of a prodigy. They also thought him conceited and stand-offish, so he made no friends. Outside of the classrooms, Aberdeen made but little impression on him. His reading with Dr. Tower was a different matter. He spent three afternoons each week with Dr. Tower. They were hours of excitement and revelation.

He never forgot that first afternoon when Cassandra answered his ring at the door.

"Down there, the last door." Parris stood looking at her. She was much prettier than he had remembered her to be.

"How have you been, Cassie? I haven't seen you in an awfully long time."

"I'm all right." She looked at him steadily, her eyes very large and bright.

Parris walked the length of the dim passage and rapped softly on the door.

"Come in, come in."

The voice was something of a surprise. It was deep and musical.

"How do you do, sir?" Doctor Tower nodded. His eyes, exactly like Cassie's, Parris thought, seemed somewhat unseeing.

"Hereafter, you may come around to the study door. It won't be necessary to come through the house."

Parris felt his face flame. The simple statement seemed to carry not only a rebuke but some sort of obscure threat.

"Then we must put him in Aberdeen, at once. But it will save time if he reads medicine with someone for a couple of high-school classes."

Parris was pretty sure now that he would like to be a doctor. But he thought he'd rather drive two fiery bay horses like Dr. Gordon and go around saving people's lives. Suddenly he recalled that day Dr. Gordon operated on Willy Macintosh's father. He remem-

Crushing of Hitler Armies During Year Red Star Forecast

Russian Army's Paper Sees Anti-German Forces Supreme

(By The Associated Press)

Red Star declared today that the fighting coalition of the United States, Britain and Soviet Russia is stronger than Germany in resources and reserves, and predicted the defeat of Adolf Hitler's spring campaign and the crushing of his armies this year.

"Economic resources will mean the final decision," said the journal of the Red army. "Soviet Russia, Britain and the United States are producing 28 times as much gasoline as Germany together with her vassals and occupied lands".

The United States turns out three times as much steel as Germany, Red Star said. It declared that in manpower reserves the United States, Britain and Russia were far ahead.

"The help we are receiving from our allies is growing continuously," Red Star said, "and no doubt simultaneously the military efforts of our allies will grow."

Claims Big Nazis Loses

The Red army organ said that in his efforts for a quick victory over the Soviet Union Hitler lost 6,000,000 men in the first five months of the war. Since then the rate of loss has been even greater, the newspaper asserted.

It added that "Germany will be weaker in manpower this spring than she was last summer".

Red Star raised a question whether Hitler's talk of a great spring offensive was not intended primarily to raise the spirits of his troops and gloss over the bad state of his present campaign.

Dispatches from the fighting front said warmer weather, with rain instead of snow, already was being felt on the far southern front.

"Reds' Drive Rolls On

The Soviet government said its winter offensive was rolling on and that counterattacks against the Red Army on some sectors had been repelled "with heavy losses to the Germans".

In fierce fighting on the northern wing of the front, between Moscow and Leningrad, Soviet troops were reported officially to have captured a strongly fortified position identified only as "L", wiping out the German garrison of more than 400 men and capturing a large quantity of material.

In another sector of the front the Russians said their artillery had beaten back three Nazi counterattacks in the past week and had destroyed "five enemy blockhouses, four defense works and 50 other fortified positions". German losses in futile assaults in this region were estimated at 400 officers and men.

Red Guerrillas Active

On the southern wing of the front the Russians credited their artillery with destroying a German railway train and dispersing two companies of troops.

Soviet guerrillas, operating in the Kursk region some 125 miles north of Kharkov, Donets basin industrial center, were said to have ambushed a German transport column and captured three field guns and 27 carts loaded with supplies.

The German high command communiqué reported again today that the Russians had suffered heavy casualties on the eastern front.

As in other similar reports during the week, however, it acknowledged that the Soviet forces still were on the offensive.

There was a lull in land operations on the Libyan war front, according to the Italian high command. "Extremely unfavorable weather" limited axis aerial operations, Rome reported.

Home Nursing Tonight—

Sixty registrations for civilian defense classes in home nursing have been received at the Loveland Community House, where Miss Gertrude Wilhelm, school nurse, will present the first lecture at 7 o'clock this evening.

Another group will meet under her direction at the civic center from 3-5 p. m. Monday, and a third class will be meeting from 7-9 Monday, with Miss Velma Parker, high school nurse, as instructor. Additional registrations will be accepted at the Community House.

Original opening date for the campaign, according to these reports, was April 1. Instead, renewed Japanese urging led the Nazis to open their campaign two months ahead of schedule, the sources added.

Japanese demands for naval cooperation were said to have been made at an axis conference in Bavaria early in January. Vice Admiral Karl Doenitz, in command of the U-boat fleet, was said to have told them he would use "pact tactics" on the sea lanes near Europe while his largest submarines and best crews would range the North American coast.

Head of Schedule

According to reports, the campaign will be secured in Dixon within the next few days for the location of quarters which will serve as offices for engineers and draftsmen, who are expected to begin arriving next week. It was intimated that about 150 to 200 draftsmen and engineers would form the first group to arrive on the scene and begin operations.

One of the first operations in the ordnance plant site, it was said, will be the erection of barracks buildings which will house the administrative offices and headquarters for the draftsmen and engineers. O. A. Buck, agent in charge of the acquisition group when the project was first started, has returned to the Dixon offices and as he is in charge of several projects in the mid west area, he will make his headquarters in Dixon for some time.

These sources declared that, according to information from the continent, the Nazis had 34 U-boats at sea in the North Atlantic early in February. This probably means, they added, that actually there were three times that many operating in this area at that time.

Major Lowery, who was in charge of the ordnance plant at Burlington, Iowa, has been named area engineer on the construction of the $27,000,000 Green River ordnance plant. Major Lowery was due to arrive at the Rock Island Arsenal over the week end to confer with Col. Ball on plans for construction of the plant south of Dixon, after which he will come to Dixon to take charge of all operations.

Union Sunday Eve Lenten Service at First Presbyterian

The 1942 Sunday evening Lenten series of union services sponsored by the five downtown churches of Dixon will begin next Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. A. J. Tavenner pastor of the Fourth Street Methodist church of Sterling, as the guest speaker.

The Rev. Mr. Tavenner, who is a brother of Dr. J. L. Tavenner of this city and a native of Polo, will speak Sunday night on the subject: "Earth's Chief Sovereign". After a very successful pastorate at Centennial church, Rockford, Mr. Tavenner was appointed pastor of the Fourth Street Methodist church of Sterling by Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of Chicago at the last session of the Rock River Methodist Conference. The Tavenner family is well known in these parts and many local people will welcome this opportunity to hear this neighbor-preacher.

Special music for the service Sunday night will be furnished by the Presbyterian chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Joslyn.

The five downtown churches cooperating in these union Lenten services are: St. Paul's Lutheran First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Christian and St. Luke's Episcopal. The general public is most cordially invited to attend all of the services of the series.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Prayer Is Great Discipline of Soul, Bringing Strength and Power to Men

Text: Luke 6:12-26

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of Advance

Into this lesson on the appointment of the 12 apostles is packed about as much significant fact and truth as could be found anywhere in all the records of mankind since writing began.

First of all, we are told that in these days Jesus went out into the mountain to pray and He continued all night in prayer to God. What days were these when Jesus thus felt the need of prayer? They were the days when His earthly mission was developing, when the crowds were hurrying to Him because of His healing and His wonderful works, and when intensely earnest souls were turning to Him because they perceived in Him a great teacher. They were days when anyone filled with ideas of worldly success would have wanted to stay with the crowd exploiting every event and incident of popularity. But Jesus went into the mountain to pray and prayed all night!

What a revelation we have here of the religion that Jesus brought to men! How utterly the standards of His truth and His kingdom are different from the standards of the world! How completely is the Christian idea of success and of triumphant life at variance with the worldly idea of success! And how deeply and strongly does this record concerning the Master speak concerning what is necessary for our lives!

The example of the Master ought to stand before us insistently whenever we have any tendency to lapse in our own morale or to take things for granted.

Prayer is a great discipline of the soul, leading men to God and bringing God's strength and power to men for their daily tasks.

Then, as if it were not already enough in this lesson, we have the great passage which we call "the Beatitudes"—the blessings that Jesus pronounced which, quite as truly as the withdrawal of Jesus from the throng and His praying all night in the mountain, suggest how different the standards of right and character and success in the Kingdom of God are from the material and shallow standards that are set up in ordinary life.

To be worthy of these blessings is the supreme quest of the Christian.

If Jesus felt the need of prayer, how much more do we need prayer in our lives! And if we could sense the things that Jesus prayed for in His all-night meditation and supplication, would we not understand better than we do the true place and function of prayer? Can we imagine for a moment that Jesus prayed during that night

DISCIPLINE CALLED FOR

The challenge of the Lenten season to discipline oneself was called to the attention of the union Ash Wednesday service in St. Paul's Lutheran church, on Wednesday evening. A representative audience of Dixon protestant churches braved the cold weather to attend this annual service.

"The History of Lent" was explained by Rev. B. Norman Burke, rector of the St. Luke's Episcopal church. The speaker pointed out the connection between the forty hours that Jesus is reputed to have been in the grave, and the forty days of the Lenten season. The reason given for beginning on Ash Wednesday was on account of the fact that Sundays are not fast days because they commemorate the resurrection of Christ from the dead, so the season has forty days in addition to the six Sundays of the season. The need for self discipline was strongly presented to the people.

The Rev. George Nielsen of Grace Evangelical church on the north side spoke about the observance of Lent indicating the need for consecration and presenting our bodies as living sacrifices to God. Rev. R. W. Ford closed the series of brief messages by pointing out some of the values that should come in observing Lent. Among those indicated was that people might come closer to Christ and realize his message of salvation for this needy world. Thus from three divergent viewpoints as far as churches are concerned the audience had pointed out some phases of observing Lent that would be helpful to the Christian life.

Dr. L. W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's congregation, presided, and the church choir sang two numbers, "I Want to Walk Where Jesus Walked," by O'Hara and "Jesus, Precious Treasure," by on the mountain for material things or for material blessings? Did prayer for Him mean the earth-bound things which it has meant for so many of us? Or, was not prayer for Him a great discipline in which He was seeking to discover the Father's will and to conform Himself completely to it? This surely is the true place and function of prayer—not getting things in the ordinary mistaken notion of Christian prayer, but attaining to the supreme thing, which is unity of our wills with God.

It is in a passage like this, too, that we are able to perceive and understand the true humanity of Jesus. The divine revelation that He gave was in an earthly life, subject to temptation, capable of enduring trial and sorrow, subject also to weakness and needing the disciplines by which alone life can be made strong.

The example of the Master ought to stand before us insistently whenever we have any tendency to lapse in our own morale or to take things for granted. Prayer is a great discipline of the soul, leading men to God and bringing God's strength and power to men for their daily tasks.

To be worthy of these blessings is the supreme quest of the Christian.

ATTENTION FANS . . . Among the candidates for county offices in Lee County at the April primaries are two veterans of the baseball world . . . Ward Miller, former Cub outfielder and also with other clubs of the National and old Federal League, is seeking the office of sheriff . . . not being able to succeed himself after making a fine record as county treasurer . . . another veteran of the diamond is Irving "Lefty" Knauer of West Brooklyn . . . who is the Democratic candidate for sheriff . . . Knauer was given trials by both the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants as a pitcher and was a leader in the California Winter League, where he also acquired some police experience . . . Miller served under the late Frank Chance and Knauer tried out with the Giants under the later John McGraw . . .

PISCATORIAL WORK . . . Some of Dixon's more observing anglers have scanned seriously, a picture of a fish on a down town market window, which advertises fresh bullheads for sale . . . the likeness is well done and a credit to the artist from strictly an artistic standpoint, but the thing that is worrying the fishermen is the fact that the bullhead, pictured on the window, has scales on its sides . . . it's a new species to midwestern waters . . .

"MY HANDS ARE CLEAN" . . . "Olie" Schrock, veteran if not a close aspirant to "Doc" Dwyre and "Ace" Hartman of the Court House bowlers . . . has been accused of scrambling the scores in a mixed doubles event recently . . . he has most emphatically denied the allegation and pleads that his only activity in the event, was a none-too-good total at the close of his set . . .

APOLOGIES AND OH! YOU NASTY MAN" . . . in yesterday's issue of this department we lightly maligned our friend, Bill Underwood, for having in his possession the lowly "Duck Pin" . . . but on further investigation we found that the darn thing has completely disappeared and that Bill hasn't seen it in the last three or four weeks . . . so we put our sleuths on the trail and this is the result . . . "Doc" Dwyre, one evening when his "Philbert" wasn't up to par, justly earned the lowly "Duck Pin" for himself and everyone sincerely believed that the little fellow would be safe in "Doc's" keeping . . . but when "Doc" was alone he must have started thinking over how badly his bowling was in order to get this infernal thing wished on him . . . when he could no longer stand the humiliation of it all and as his wrath kept mounting higher and higher he maliciously grabbed the little fellow, removed himself to the briny brink and with a few words which must be censored in this column he hurled the "Duck Pin" into the swirling waters of Rock River . . . goodbye ol' fellow it was nice knowin' ya' . . .

CUBS . . . that illustrious ball club rode through our city Wednesday night on the streamliner, City of Los Angeles, headed west for their spring training activities . . . much to our surprise we didn't see "Fritz" Hoffman or Willard Jones on deck to give them a rousing cheer . . . so yesterday we accosted the two of them and inquired . . . said Fritz, "Hm-mm—went through on a train—well they aren't going anywhere" . . . now is that nice . . . Jonesie remarked, "This is the first time the Cubs have had a ride on such a train, the Sox have been riding it for years and that just shows you how far the Cubs are behind the Sox" . . . my! . . . and I thought they were Cub fans . . .

TO OFFICIATE . . . Bob Underwood had to get a special permit from the Ill. High School Athletic Assn., in order to take a trip out to Tipton, Ia., tonight so he could referee a basketball game for his old home town pal and Drake U. classmate, Coach Hank Henry . . . accompanying Bob on the trip will be Hank's father, Mr. Edward Henry, George Curtiss, and Lyle Bellows . . .

FEAST AND PARTY—OH! BOY . . . the Rock River Trail and Horseman's Association will hold its annual party Saturday night in the Legion Hall . . . all members and their friends are cordially invited to attend . . . a program of the Association's future activities will be announced later . . .

Dukes To Princeton Tonight--Rock Falls Here Saturday

Rockets Face Hubs In Rock River Conf. Championship Game

Coach Vaux's Aces Play Host To a High Scoring Steward Quintet

GAMES TONIGHT
Dixon at Princeton.
Sterling at DeKalb.
Rock Falls at Rochelle.
Mt. Morris at Oregon.
Amboy at Polo.
Franklin Grove at Byron.
Steward at Ashton.
Lee Center at Ohio.
Walnut at Mineral.
Harmon at Lee.
Milledgeville at Mt. Carroll.

GAMES SATURDAY NIGHT
Rock Falls at Dixon.
Rochelle at Belvidere.
Ashton at Franklin Grove.

The Dukes will travel to Princeton tonight for the championship of the North Central Conference. This game will undoubtedly be one of the best on for tonight. The Dukes have once before beaten the Tigers but the latter is now playing a bang up game with a rejuvenated team that's out to mean business. On Saturday night the Dukes will face the Rock Falls Rockets on the local gym and will be in for more trouble because Rock Falls is one of the two teams that has spoiled a perfect record for the Dukes this season; however, if all goes well the Sharp-shooters should whip the Rockets on their local court for it was only on a bad break that she lost to the Quire-men once before.

The Dukes' sophomore team will tee off against the Rocket Ponies in the preliminary game at about 7 p. m.

Sterling goes to DeKalb tonight for a conference tilt and if the Barbs are unusually fortunate they might nose Sterling completely out of the conference running, for the latter would share in the title honors if the Tigers happened to subdue the Dukes.

Rock River Conference Games
Rock Falls will journey to Rochelle tonight to battle it out for a share in the Rock River Conference. The Rockets should emerge with a win but Rochelle remains the only quintet in the loop that might beat the ears off Coach Quire's lads.

Mt. Morris goes over to Oregon tonight for another Rock River Valley Conference game and this promises to be a bloody fray for their rivalry is as great as the old tradition between Dixon and Sterling. Oregon will have a little edge on her visitors tonight for the latter after earlier season showings of brilliance have lately slumped.

Amboy will be playing up at Polo tonight. This game will have no direct bearing on the outcome of the Rock River Conference title, but nevertheless should be a neck and neck game for the Amboyites have shown all sorts of importance since early in the season.

Other Games
Franklin Grove will hop up to Byron this evening and should have things pretty much her own way; however, Byron at times shows that she's really got a first-rate club and if her boys get together to prove it tonight they might make things pretty warm for the visiting Wildcats.

Steward visits Ashton tonight and all indications from the way both clubs play this will be anybody's ball game up to the final toot of the whistle. Steward is marked with a bunch of boys that can really shoot and hit from almost any angle while Ashton has a smooth working unit based on ball-handling and obtains her scores as the result of her smooth functioning. So tonight we'll get a good example of whether ordinary shooting percentages will run higher scores that working for deliberate set-ups. All in all this will be one of the feature games of the night for both clubs are of first-rate calibre and are going in to the fray at even-up.

Lee Center goes down to Ohio tonight for a visit with Coach Barnes high scoring club. This tilt will decide the championship of the B. L. P. conference. Ohio has bowed twice before to the Centerites, once in the conference tournament finals 18 to 17 and then again in a conference game at Lee Center 30 to 28. So we can see by the scores that this game tonight will be a hot and fiery fray with two evenly balanced quintets mixing it up.

Walnut goes to Mineral tonight and Coach Mosher's five should have things pretty much their own way. Harmon will visit Lee and Coach Knudsen's host team will have easy sailing. Milledgeville goes to Mt. Carroll for what might be anybody's game for once before these lads met and the game went into an overtime with the 'Millies' finally getting a little edge which gave them a win.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, first woman cabinet member and veteran of President Roosevelt's cabinet, is reported planning to resign.

Mixed Double Prize Won by Mrs. M. Dwyre-H. Hartman

The Mixed Doubles session went into full stride last night at the Lincoln Lanes as Mrs. M. Dwyre and H. Hartman walked off with high honors to the tune of 1146. D. Duffy and W. Weidman rolled second high for the night with 1109. Third place honors went to Minett Meinke and Ciehl Weidman with 1089.

There were any number of high games bowled last night but Walt Klein performed at a consistently high pace with games of 199, 191 and 184. H. Hartman turned in games of 188 and 185 for second high individual honors, followed by Wayne Weidman with 189 and 170. Clark Hess with 196 and Ciehl Weidman with 171. Lois McCardle won high individual honors for the ladies with games of 187 and 176. Minett Meinke was next with 177 and 170 and Goldie Hess with a 171.

The Reynolds Wire keglers really got hot last night down at the Dixon Recreation and completely smothered the Dixon Telegraph team by lacing the latter in three straight games. These wins gave the Wire lads a comfortable grip on the top spot of the Commercial league. R. Winebrenner led the winners with 567 and Wells supplied the Telegraph's best threat with a series of 466.

Just under the league leaders there was virtually a dog fight last night for positions in the standings. When all was cleared up the National Tea had outstripped the Cahill Electrics in three games, knocked the latter out of second place and took the seat over for themselves. Bus Carlson got rolling like a little red wagon last night as he paced the Tea boys with a 575 series. J. Smith fronted the losers with a 532 series.

There were two very consistent bowlers on deck last night; Vincent Oehl with 158, 156 and 154 and Mrs. Helen Klein with 145 and 152.
